“My experience handling hundreds of cases in the federal and state courts in Minnesota and elsewhere provides a unique perspective which I bring to every matter I handle.”

Joseph F. Lulic is a Senior Attorney at Brownson Norby, PLLC in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Joe has a wealth of longstanding experience as a prominent Minneapolis litigation attorney. Prior to joining Brownson Norby, Joe was a founding partner of the Minneapolis litigation firm; Hanson, Lulic & Krall, LLC. Joe comes to Brownson Norby with substantial background in all facets of civil litigation, with experience in insurance coverage, property and casualty insurance-related matters, and complex multi-party insurance-related subrogation and defense matters.

Joe’s practice has an emphasis on:

- Insurance Coverage Litigation

Joe has represented, and continues to represent, property and casualty insurers, risk managers, and corporations. To his clients, Joe is known for his ability to quickly evaluate cases and provide the necessary information and recommendations to efficiently resolve both litigation matters as well as insurance claims.

Joe’s experience includes handling all aspects of insurance-related matters, including fire scene investigations, insurer subrogation, and recommendations for subrogation, mediations, and other proceedings before the Minnesota state courts, federal courts, and administrative agencies. Joe also focuses on prompt, timely handling, and disposition of litigation.

Joe prides himself on maintaining up-to-date knowledge on the dynamic fields in which he practices to ensure that the firm’s business and insurance clients are compliant and ahead of the curve. Joe possesses strong analytical reasoning skills, and is an adept creative thinker, qualities which translate well to his work in the firm’s litigation defense practice.
